Celebs sleep soundly

Everyone from Hollywood A-listers to domestic divas are sleep-deprived these days. Busy stars like Courtney Cox, Ellen Page and Laura Linney can slow down their active minds with the Glo to Sleep eye mask. It's designed to help you forget about your to-do lists and meetings so you can fall asleep faster and rest more peacefully. And there's a beauty bonus: There's no worries if you forget to take off your eye makeup before bedtime. Rather than resting against your face, this unique mask is designed with a special buffer that allows ample room for blinking. $60, glotosleep.com.
